MORGAN GIVES A MILLION TO HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

Money to Be Used in Completing Buildings for the Medical School in Boston.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Cambridge, Mass., June S.—President Silot announced at the Harvard alumni dinner te-night that J. P. Morgan had given more than $1,000,000 for the erection of three of the five buildings planned for the Harvard medical school in Boston. The gift is for the prosecution of "Applied Biolog-ical Research."

ical Research."

Some months ago, President Eliot explained, Messra. Henry and Frank Higginson took a tract of twenty acres of land, paying $55,000 for it. This they agreed to hold in trust for the university until means should be found to buy it from them, when they would sell at cost price. It was supposed that the carrying out of the plan would be a matter for the remote future.

Nevertheless, the medical faculty, through a committee consisting of Doctors Henry P. Bowditch and J. Collins Warren, proceeded to draw up plans and specifications

Mr. Morgan's Cablegram.
The estimated cost was $2,900,000.
Last Friday Doctor Warren received a cable from Mr. Morgan, in which he said:
"Referring to our conversation and plans submitted, I am prepared to erect the central buildings and two side pavilions as a memorial to Junius Spencer Morgan, a native of Massachusetts and for many years a merchant of Boston. You can aunounce this."

President Eliot called attention to the phrase, "plans submitted," which, he said, included specifications, and said that these called for an outlay of more than $1,000.000. The new buildings on Huntington avenue, in Boston, will include a hospital.

Colneidentally, it was noted that more than $190 men took the M. D. degree this morning.

Notable Men Present.

The commencement was rather quiet, in that the number of distinguished men present as guests were fewer than usual. The double disappointment in the absence of President McKinley and Secretary Hay made Baron von Holleben, the German Ambassador, the chief guest of honor. Otherwise the only prominent visitors from other countries or State were Vice President Roosevelt, Honorable Wayne Mac-Veagh, who will deliver the Phi-Beta Knappa oration; John Bellows, of Gloucester, England, noted lexicographer; Judge James Tindall Mitchell of the Supreme Court; and Jacobus Henricus Van Hoffman, described by President Hill in conferring a degree as the greatest living physical chemist.

Senator Hoar presided at the alumni dinner and others made extraordinary laudatory references to the President and Secretary of State.

The Commencement Exercises at Harvard Iniversity to-day followed the usual order.

The Commencement Exercises.

Commencement exercises at Harvard University to-day followed the usual order. The President and fellows of the university, the overseer and the various faculities met the recipients of the honorary degrees, Governor Crane and his staff, and other invited guests, and all the alumni, marched to Sanders's Theater, escorted by all the seniors and other candidates for degrees in the caps and gowns. The commencement speakers were: Lawrence Hayward, Mariborough, Mass.; Sanford H. E. Freund, New York; Samuel Smith Drury, Bristol, R. I., and Herbert C. Kahn, Indianapolis. Pollowing the exercises in Sanders's Theater, the various classes held reunions.

One of the most interesting of to-day's events was the dedication of the gates of the new fence, surrounding the college grounds, by the classes which presented the memorials to the university.

To-day's commencement was noteworthy for the conferring of degrees in course upon the largest number of men who have ever

ITALY PROTESTS AGAINST COUNTERVAILING SUGAR DUTY.

Signor Carignani Notifies the State Department That His Government Pays No Bounty on Sugar, Contrary to Gage's Suppositions-New Controversy Analagous to the One Between the United States and Russia.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, June 26.—Following the example of Russia, Italy has taken issue with the United States in consequence of its action in imposing a countervailing duty upon Italian sugar.

The surprising fact about the action of the Treasury Department is that it directed the application of the countervailing duty, not upon definite information that Italy paid a bounty, but because it "appears highly probable" that such is the case.

Signor Carignani, the Italian Charge d'Affaires, notified the State Department to-day that Italy pays no export bounty on Sugar below 20 Dutch standard, 5.60 france per 100 kilograms; sugar No. 20. Dutch standard, 6.13 france per 100 kilograms.

"Pending further investigation of the mat-ter, the liquidation of all sugars imported from or produced in Italy shall be sus-pended and the duties shall be estimated in amount sufficient to cover additional du-ties equal to the above specifical duties."

Italy's position is consequently identical with that of Russia. An official of the Government, who is not in accord with h. Case's policy, said to-day that nations. Europe could reply to the action of the Government by imposing retailetory duties on "probable cause."

sugar. This is preliminary to a formal protest, which would be submitted as soon as all the facts are received from Rome.

This is the official order issued by Secretary Gage:

"In view of the information thus far received as to the operations of the law of Italy, now in force, concerning the excise on sugar, it appears highly probable that sugar produced in that country receives indirect export bountles as follows:

on "probable cause."

But whether in favor of or opposed to Mr. Gage's action, all the officials agree that the agitation which has occurred will be beneficial in showing the country the rest sentiment of Europe, and the effect on Congress will probably be to cause the ratification, other treaties, one with Russia, and another with Italy, will be submitted to the Senate for its approval.

INVITES FRIENDS TO BRING SANDWICH AND SIT ON PORCH

street, is a St. Louis hostess whose name has gone down in the annals of society as a giver of entertainments that invariably par-take of unique qualities. An invitation to one of Mrs. Pattison's evenings is always the signal for something as uncommon as it is pleasureful, and her guests joyfully ac-cept and gleefully attend.

Early this week Mrs. Pattison sent out informal notes to two dozen of her inti-mate friends. They read as follows: "My Dear Mrs. Blank: Mr. Pattison and myself will be gied to have Mr. Blank and you spend Thursday evening with us. We have planned a little 'S. S. party.' Bring me sandwhites and prepare to spend the ening on the porch. Cordially, yours, "ALICE GOULD PATTISON."

Now, just what the mystic words "S. S. party" can mean is puzzling more than a few of the invited ones. They doubtless will understand the full significance of the letters after to-night. That it will be some thing out of the ordinary every guest feel-assured. Mrs. Pattison expects to remain as home until very late in the summer, and, being a woman of much wit and invention, has planned a series of little informal func-tions that shall depart from the beaten track of entertainment and give corre-sponding pleasure to her guests. To-night's affair is the first.

A Carrie Nation temperance song composed by a local poet was sung for the first time. During the singing Mrs. Nation beat time with her hands, to the delight of the crowd. She tuiked for half an hour on "God's Saloon." At the close of her address she sold copies of the Smasher's Mail and pictures and hatchets by hundreds.

Mrs. Nation was late arriving and it was rumored she had gone to town to smash a few salesms. The report made the audience more anxious to see her.

PASSENGERS FOUGHT FOR LIFE BOATS.

Wild Scenes Enacted When the Lusitania Went on Cape Ballard Rocks.

EMIGRANTS.

Women Trampled Under Foot, but the Gallant Crew Landed Them Befere Frantic Men After Desperate Fight.

St. Johns, New Foundland, June 26. The Orient Steam Navigation Company's steamer Lusitania, Captain McNay, from Liverpool, June 18, for Montreal, having engers on board, was wrecked last night off Cape Ballard. The Lusitania was bound round Cape lince for Montreal with a large cargo and shipload of passengers. She mistook her course in a dense fog and went ashore near Renewa, twenty miles north of Cape Race. before daybreak. The ship ran over a reef and lange against a cliff.

Fought for the Boats.

The parsengers, who are mostly emigrants, were lande stricken. They stampeded and fought for the boats, but were overcome by the officers and crew. The rougher element among the passengers used knives. The women and children were first landed and the men followed. The crew stood by the ship.

Women Trampled Under Foot.

The male passengers, in their attempt to seize the boats, trampled the women under foot and fought the crew with knives. Some of the more coolheaded of the passengers assisted the crew in the efforts to get out the boats. One boat was upset and its occupants were immersed. It is still supposed that some of these were drowned. Another boat, having on board the twenty persons, is supposed to be adrift in the fog and this may have given rise to the report that twenty persons were drowned by the upsetting of a boat.

Rescued by Const People.

The women and children, almost nule, were pulled up the cliffs by the const people. This morning the unhappy passengers, after shivering for hours on the hilliop, trumped over weary miles in their endeavor to reach the hours of the fishermen, where they are now sheltered. Previous to reaching the cliffs the pussengers passed two hours of terrible anxiety on the wreck.

As a furlous rainstorm and heavy Sea raged all night, it is feared the Lusitania will be a total wreck. The last reports received here said the steamer was breaking up, that her foreholds were full of water and that her cargo was being salvaged.

There is hope of saving the effects of the passengers, as where possible, they were stowed above decks.

Six steamers are now on their way from here to the scene of the wreck. It is expected that the rescued passengers will be brought here to-night.

No Lives Were Lost.

Still later reports received here show that the wreck of the Lusitania did not result to any first all the reservers estimated to the scene of the wreck here show that the wreck of the Lusitania did not result to any first all the reservers.

The Lustania had been badly forced on the rocks, has listed to one side and is half full of water.

She had on board 300 passengers, not 500, as at first reported.

All sorts of rumors are current along the coast as to the details of the wreck. The coast population is repairing to the scene in the hope of salvaging the Lustiania's cargo. No direct statements from those who were on board as to what occurred on the wrecked steamer have yet reached St. Johns.

The steamer Glencoe, bringing the Lustiania's passengers, is due here to-night. The messenger who brought the news of the wreck to St. John's says the passengers on board the Lustiania drew their knives to wreck to St. John's says the passengers on board the Lusitania drew their knives to cut the boat lashes and threatened the crew of the steamer when they thought the latter would attempt to interfere with them in so doing. The last message to the agents of the Lusitania here says the vessel is hard and firm against the reef, and a hopeless wreck. Her engine room is full of flooded. The ship is listed heavily to port and waves are warking in and out of her forward and aft holes. The afterdecks are under water. A strong northeast breeze is tumbling up a heavy sea, which will soon dismantle the ship.

WRECKED TRAIN ARRIVES. Survivors of Wabash Accident at

Peru, Ind., Reach St. Louis.

Peru, Ind., Reach St. Louis,
The Wabash train which was wrecked near Peru, Ind., early yesterday afternoon in two sections, The first section reached Union Station at 4:15 and the second at 5:15. Twenty-three immigrants, the injured occupants of the car which was demolished, were on the first section. None of the injured were brought to St. Louis.
The immigrants were bound for Colorado. Their experience in the wreck had terrified them. None could speak English, and, during their short stay in St. Louis they huddled together in a corner of the waiting-room. Through an interpreter it was learned that one man, Joseph Ragoni, had a brother and a cousin among the killed. Another brother remained in Peru to attend the burial.

Mrs. Amelia Woods and her niece, Miss Lily Camps, both of Bismarck, Mo., were on one of the chair cars which went through the trestle and was overturned. They passed through this city last night. Mrs. Woods said that three persons in the car occupied by her were killed.

William Cotter, general superintendent of the Iron Mountain, whose private car was attached to the wrecked train, will astrive in this city this morning. News was telegraphed to Union Station last night that Mrs. Doctor Gruber and children of Millistadt, Ill., were uninjured and would reach St. Louis at 5 a. m. to-day. The Gruber children were at first reported injured.

GOOD BREAKFASTS.

The breakfast is perhaps the most important meal of the day. Europeans usually eat a very light breakfast. Many Americans have stomach trouble because they eat too much or food of not the right sort for the morning meal. An ideal breakfast is a baked apple or some other fruit, a dish of Grape-Nuts Food with a little cream, and a cup of Postum Food Coffee. Leave off all meat, hot biscuits, etc., Grape-Nuts and Postum both furnish the phosphate of potash together with other food elements that go to make up brain and nerve centers as well as muscle and tissue, and both can be digested by the stomach of an infant.

It is the part of wisdom nowadays to use food especially selected for nourishment and that can be easily digested. Tendays' trial of this breakfast and you will reel as though you had "cleaned house."

The exhilaration of bounding health is worth a hundred times the small outlay of time and care in arranging such breakfast. Mrs. Hiley, 135 Chestnut street. Camden, N. J., says she formerly breakfasted on chops, hot biscuits and coffee. "After such a meal I would have severe pains and they would last sometimes far into the night." She finally determined on a change in her diet and had for breakfast only Grape-Nuts Food and a little cream with Postum Food Coffee. She says, "In a very few days the intestinal trouble all disappeared. I have regained my old-time weignt, lost the irritability and nervousness, and life takes on a new aspect.

When I feel a little exhausted in the day.

ritability and nervousness, and life takes on a new aspect.

When I feel a little exhausted in the day I simply drop everything and stir a spoontal of Grape-Nuts in a little cream or hot milk, and in ten minutes I have regained my vigor and freshness.

Grape-Nuts Food is best when served just as it comes from the package without any cooking whatever. The tood has already been cooked ten or twelve hours in the process of manufacturing it. When made up into puddings, pies and other desserts, it does not hurt it to be cooked again, but when served simply as a breakfast food it should never be cooked. On the contrary Postum Corfee absolutely must be holled if or 30 minutes before the food value and flavor can be brought out.

Two sections of train No. 3-one coming from Detroit and the other from Toledo, were consolidated in this city into a train of eleven cars, making up the flyer for its journey to St. Louis.
Having left this city one hour late, the train was speeding westward at a high rate, when, at a point nine miles west, the engine plunged through a tressle which had been undermined by the recent heavy rains. Owing to the momentum of the train the engine appeared to leap nearly across the abyss, plunged into the soft earth on the opposite side and fell back to the bottom. Engineer Butler and Fireman Adams were thrown from the cab, but not seriously injured. The express car and the first chair car were telescoped.
The emigrant car, followed by two chair cars, went down on the left side of the track, and the first sleeper pitched forward upon the mass of debris. Its windows and trucks were broken, but none of the occupants were injured. The remaining cars also left their trucks, but were not badly damaged.
It was in the emigrant and day conches the St. Louis Valley Rullroad Company. W.
